Fresh is always in a hurry
(so we deliver within 24 hours from stock)

In-house and state-of-the art machinery.

We manufacture all corrugated packaging in-house on our corrugated board machinery. De Jong Packaging is the largest and only independent Dutch producer of corrugated packaging, with two corrugators on one site. This enables us to be very flexible in producing the perfect packaging for you. On our extensive and complete production department we operate the very latest processing machines. Here we print, die-cut and glue all types and sizes of corrugated trays, 4-corner glued boxes and standard Fefco 0201 boxes, to name a few.

About De Jong Packaging.

De Jong Packaging is a truly international company with 350 employees that currently produces over 300 million m2 of corrugated board packages each year. Currently the site is 120,000 m2 production facility and growing. We are the market leader in corrugated board packaging in the Dutch market egg and gardening sector in The Netherlands, Belgium and Germany, however we also supply our products in the UK, Ireland and France. Our strong position in the corrugated produce sector has been reinforced by a significant growth of sales in the flower, FMCG, dairy, food, drink general and industrial corrugated packaging industry. The company was founded by the successful independent entrepreneur Henk de Jong who started to produce the packaging that his own market gardening company needed for its own products. So from being a customer of a packaging company he also became a packaging producer who knows exactly what his customers need.

25 million packages in stock
(your packaging is available whenever you need it)

Cost-saving warehouse services.

Our logistics service goes beyond just the delivery of your packaging. De Jong Packaging has a sizeable storage area of 30.000 m² where we keep standard packaging of all supermarkets in stock for you. The advantage for you is that you do not need to invest your own operating capital in your packaging stocks until your packaging is actually delivered to you. Moreover, your packaging is always available whenever you need it. So you can always pack, dispatch and invoice your products without having your own extensive packaging stocks! No unnecessary costs.

Fast moving is our core business
(that's why we offer daily deliveries)

Your product deserves the perfect packaging.

De Jong Packaging offers a wide range of corrugated boxes and trays in all sizes and shapes. Besides supplying standard packaging, we are also happy to design customised, corrugated packaging in close collaboration with you. Our focus is not only to protect your products against damage, but also to let them stand out from the competition at point of sale. We can produce in full colour and even photographic images of your product on the packaging. The ideal tray consists of a combination of the transport and stacking function that you require and optimal manufacturability of your corrugated board trays on our machines.
